FIELD OFFICER'S GOLD MEDAL

FOR THE BATTLE OF

ALBUHERA, MAY 11th, 1811,

TO

MAJOR WILLIAM COLLIS SPRING,

57th REGIMENT.

∵ Wounded at Albuhera and on his recovery took command of the Regiment in the absence of Lt.-Col. Inglis. Gazetted Lieut.-Colonel 4th June, 1813.

It was in the battle of Albuhera that the Middlesex Regiment gained its glorious title of " The Die Hards."

This battle, the most obstinate and sanguinary of the Peninsula fights, was fought on the 16th May, 1811. Marshal Soult commanded on the French side, and Marshal Beresford commanded the Allied Army, of which 7,000 were British troops. Favoured by the woods in front of the British position, and the thickness of the weather, the French had, unobserved, concentrated the strength of their army against the right wing of the allies, and consequently when the attack was made, their numbers enabled them to make a decided impression on that part of the Army. The Spaniards temporarily giving way, threw the brunt of the fighting upon the British troops, and never did our soldiers bear themselves more nobly. With the French cavalry furiously riding around them, and their allies giving way at their side, the Middlesex and other British regiments faced their host of enemies with an unflinching resolution to die rather than to give way. " Die hard!" said their General to the regiment; and with their faces to the enemy and with every wound in front, 23 officers and 400 men of this gallant regiment out of 570, died on that fatal day, leaving an heritage of glory to their successors.

The victory gained on this day over the French was emphatically a soldiers' victory, and the Duke of Wellington afterwards said, " I think this action one of the most glorious and honourable to the troops of any that have been fought during the war."

GOLD NAVAL MEDAL

PRESENTED TO

WILLIAM PARKER, ESQUIRE,

CAPTAIN OF H.M.S. THE AUDACIOUS,

on the 28th MAY, 1794.

The French Fleet attacked.

*Sir Wm. Parker was born in Kent in 1743. Prior to 1778, in which year he was advanced to Post-rank, he served, we believe, under Lord Shuldham and Admiral Byron. During the war with America he commanded the DEAL CASTLE, MAIDSTONE, and IPHIGENIA frigates; as he subsequently did the DICTATOR 64, JUPITER 50, FORMIDABLE 98, and AUDACIOUS 74. In the JUPITER he was for three years Commodore and Commander-in-Chief on the Leeward Island station; and in the AUDACIOUS he distinguished himself by the gallant manner in which, during Lord Howe's action of 28 May, 1794, he defeated the French 110-gun ship Révolutionnaire, after a close and furious engagement of nearly two hours. As a reward for his valour he was presented, in the course of the same year, with a gold medal, was promoted to Flag-rank, and appointed Commander-in-Chief at Jamaica. Being subsequently sent to reinforce the fleet under Sir John Jervis, he fought with that officer in the action off Cape St. Vincent 14 Feb. 1797; and in acknowledgment of his services on the occasion, was raised, 24 June following, to the dignity of a Baronet, besides being presented by the King with a gold medal and chain, and by the City of London with its freedom in a gold box. His last appointment was on the Halifax station, where he commanded in chief from March 1800 until some time in the following year. He died of apoplexy at Ham, near Richmond, co. Surrey, 31 Dec. 1802.

PRICED CATALOGUES.

AFTER each sale these catalogues are issued with the prices realised printed in the margin opposite each lot, thus giving at a glance a reliable guide to values.

The final test of value must always be auction prices rather than the figures given in books of reference, for changing times and fashions soon render the latter obsolete and misleading.

On the average we issue twelve Coin and Medal catalogues a year, some of which are usually of sales of important collections. The priced catalogues are posted to subscribers as soon as ready, usually about a week after the date of sale and the subscription is . . . .

ONE GUINEA per annum.
